“Receive the Fruit of the Rose”

Questions & Answers

TOBIAS: And so it is, dear friends, that we come to this time of answering your questions. It is a time to talk with you one-on-one. It is a time we enjoy very, very much. It is our time to interact more casually with you.

We would like to talk for a moment about the channeling of this night (see "Receive the Fruit of the Rose," March 10, 2001), to explain a bit more and to help you understand. As we said, this will be one of the most significant and one of the most complex, difficult channels for you to understand, and for those that you will someday teach. If you will remember, when you first entered the new house there was only one thing in this new place. There was only one thing that was brought from the past; otherwise your new house was empty. The one thing that was brought in from the past was the crystal rose. The rose bears a fruit and the fruit is the "passion."

When Jack the Prince left the kingdom he had passion. In all of his days in the kingdom, he had passion. This is what propelled him. This is what drove him. This is what caused him to journey to new places. When he went through the Wall of Fire he was shattered in many pieces, yet in every fragment of him there was still his passion.

When Jack opened his eyes on the other side of the Wall of Fire, his passion was still within him. The passion was deeper than ever, more brilliant than ever. When he opened his eyes and saw his opposite and when the battles began it was because the passion emerged in both sides of duality. The passion was like a dance. The passion was the reason to continue going forward.

Passion is the expression of love.

Spirit is filled with passion.

Spirit IS passion.

Spirit is the expression of love.

Love sits in a place of stillness and quiet, peacefulness and serenity.

Love is the acceptance of all things as they are, and acceptance of Self as it is. When passion is added to love an expression begins, a searching begins, a journey begins.

This is what Jack had and what you had. In the kingdom, on the throne of the king and the queen, sits the elements of love, but they are still and they are quiet. They are complete unto themselves. Passion adds feet to love.

When you came to this place of earth, you accepted many new conditions. You agreed to forget who you were and where you came from. You agreed to forget the journey that brought you here. You agreed to take on a body of biology in place of the energy body as you had known. And, you agreed to leave behind this energy of spiritual passion that you had carried with you from the kingdom.

For those who have not read the previous lessons, we remind you that you will not understand these things if you try skipping forward. It is important to go back and read from the beginning for we are building from one concept to the next here.

The spiritual passion that left you when you came to Earth is coming back. It is ready for you, and in Lesson Eight it is time to receive this once again. It has been in your new house – you have just overlooked it. You have just overlooked it. By receiving this back within you, it will give you a new fuel, a new completeness and a new expression of love in the new energy.

It is no wonder that Catherine (see story of Catherine, Lesson Eight – "Receive the Fruit of the Rose") and that you have been feeling empty, depressed, and emotionally heavy. The old human passion that you have built upon during your times on earth – what you would call your ego – is going away. It is going through a death of its own. It is fading away.

Things you cared about in the past you no longer care about now. Things that were important to you before are no longer important. There is nothing wrong with you that this care has left! It means that this old human ego is now ready to move over. You do not have to worry about it controlling your life! The ego has been presented as a "bad" thing. It is not

The ego has been an important element in all your lifetimes on Earth. It has been the foundation of the Earth energy up to now. It is letting go as you let go! It is letting go! It is not some demon that has a life and a control of its own. Psychologists in the old energy came to believe that it was all powerful, that it could take control of you and manipulate you. We are here to tell you this is not true in the new energy.

You have made a commitment to be in the new energy and in doing so, your own ego, your soul and humanness is ready to move aside. That is why you have been feeling deep changes lately at your inner levels. What comes to re-unite with you is the passion you had before you came to Earth. This is your spiritual passion.

Before you came to Earth, it was known there that this spiritual passion would come back to you. It would return at the appropriate time, when you had the wisdom, when you had the tools and the understanding. It is ready to come back to you now! For some it will come back with a surprising amount of energy – almost like a jolt. For most others it will be a slow but beautiful unfolding process. Indeed, the rose is an unfolding process. Its beauty opens up to reveal something far grander.

This passion will come back to you appropriately. Then, dear friends, you will no longer be faced with your old choices of positive, negative and neutral. You have always had a limited spectrum of choices for your answers. You have always been posed with decisions of whether to go left, right or down the middle. This will change. It will change over a period of time; but it will begin changing now.

Instead of a left, right or middle; instead of positive, negative or neutral; instead of light, dark and neutral, there will be a new knowingness. It is the new answer that we have called ALL. The solution will come from a place that you have not been looking. Much like the rose has been there all the time, but you have not seen it. This knowingness will come from a new place.

Do not panic and do not fret if you do not see the new place right away. Sit in your inner room, sit in a place of peace. Take the rose in your inner room with you, if you so choose. Admire its beauty. The rose, in a sense is your soul, your spiritual soul, that you have not known in all your days on earth.

This is a very powerful and perhaps somewhat confusing lesson. It will take some time and some patience to understand it. It is very, very powerful and we – those who are in the second circle on this night — are excited about you beginning to work with this. This will begin a series of very wonderful and joyous changes for you.

Now we will attempt to answer your questions.

QUESTION: Tobias, when I first entered my "new house," it was filled with many wondrous items. The walls showed images that I could only wish for in my wildest dreams. There was a life of peace, harmony and infinite non-conditional love shared with family and friends. The kitchen had rows of caldrons filled with gold coins and there have been many wallets and purses filled with money lying about the counter. However, in my physical life, I am living on the charity of friends, sharing my life with no partner, unable to attract a job or resource of income, living on the meager provisions and have less than a dollar to my name. How does one begin or hope to balance this great disparity between realities and how does one trust that all will be brought to me as appropriate?

TOBIAS: This is an appropriate question on this night. Part of the missing element has been the passion that we have spoken of on this night. The abundance that is awaiting you in your new house needed this new fuel of passion. As you receive this passion, it will fuel all of these things that are in your new house. These very things you mention are literally waiting to come into your life. We remind you, we remind the others this is not an intellectual process! This is not an intellectual process. It cannot be plotted and planned by your old energy human mind, otherwise you will certainly feel the thorns of the rose!

Simply receive the fruit. Take within you the passion that is yours, from your birthright in the kingdom. It will provide the energy, the light, the fuel as you begin manifesting all of these items of abundance, not only in your house, but when you walk out of your house into your world of duality. It is that simple. It is that simple.

You, dear friend, have walked to the very edge of the line in order to experience going from emptiness to abundance. This will be one of your teachings to others. You will teach how you as a creator, with the element of passion, can bring all things into your life! You will also counsel other humans that things are not always what they think they will be. Do not have assumptions at this point. Do not have expectations. Simply have a divine knowingness. We thank you for this question!

QUESTION: Tobias, children committing what is categorized as adult crimes have been in the headlines every day this week. What is this and what does the resolution look like?

TOBIAS: It is very simple. Through your news, you are seeing the two energies, the two earths — the old and the new — at conflict with each other. You are seeing them trying to find resolution and balance.

There are also some cases here where the students are trying to resolve old karmic matters in a very quick manner. They do not want to go through lifetime after lifetime balancing karma. So they are attempting to do it very quickly.

In other cases it is the frustration of human mass consciousness wanting to break out of the old energy ways. The students are rebelling against abuse: being picked on, being degraded, about not being accepted for who they are. This is raising anger within them and they are expressing it in these ways.

We have no judgment on these things. We know it is natural and appropriate. We know also that you view these as very negative situations. But dear friends, stand behind the short wall for a moment. Look at what is really happening here. Look at the attention it is bringing to the old ways. It is bringing attention to old ways that need to change now. To you this may appear to be radical, to be violent, but dear friends, we can tell you that these acts have been done in love and they are received in love. It is up to you and the others who see these events, who listen to your news, to take the wisdom from them.

We see these clashes continuing to intensify. They will go beyond your schools. They will intensify until there is an acknowledgement that the old ways, the old institutions and the old hierarchies need to come down. Stand behind the short wall and understand these things are all part of the process of moving from the old energy. Love all of those who are involved in these things.

QUESTION: Is déjà vu an artifact of "now" time or is it something else entirely?

TOBIAS: Déjà vu generally occurs when you have already dreamt of an event and then you experience it. There are times when I, Tobias, am quite surprised that humans do not experience déjà vu more often. You walk through many important events in your dream state before you actually experience them in your waking state. You walk through the energies to acquaint yourself before you actually do it in human form, in your waking condition. However, as you know, most humans do not remember their dreams so much. Perhaps that is why there are not more incidences of déjà vu. The next time it happens to you, remember, indeed you have already been in your dreams.

QUESTION: Tobias, in experiencing this new knowingness of ALL I find my vision of relationships is completely changed. There is no sense of a need for exclusions of loving one for another. Please speak to the concept of marriage and its place in the new energy. Thank you for all you share.

TOBIAS: (chuckling) Now Cauldre (Geoffrey Hoppe) does not always like what we have to say! He worries of those who will throw stones at him and at his house!

In a sense you are very correct in this. (chuckling, struggling with the proper structure of the answer) We are treading on thin ice here! We will say politically –in deference to Cauldre – that indeed your relationships will change. At its very core, the relationships of a male to a female originate in the old energy. They are indeed based in duality. It is duality to say, "We will commit to each other no matter how happy or miserable we are. We are here to learn of this balance of this thing called duality."

In the new energy, the way relationships are viewed will change. You will not feel the need to bind another in the institution of marriage. You will be able to live happily with each other without the old contracts. Or, you may chose to live happily by yourself. You will not need another person to be complete. There will also be some who will live happily together in groups but yet maintain their own individuality.

This may challenge some of you based on your belief systems of what is right and wrong. We ask again that you stand behind the short wall and observe what is truly happening. (chuckling) And Cauldre tells us this was a very political answer to your question! (audience laughter)

QUESTION: Tobias, can you tell us more about Divine Passion. Is it a passion for something in particular? Where does it come from?

TOBIAS: This passion comes from your origins, from the kingdom of God. It is your birthright. It has followed you up to the time you came to earth. Divine Passion is something that we will not attempt to define here for, saying this with a wink to you, we know that humans will tend to analyze our words too much. That is why we used a very simple metaphor on this night of receiving the fruit of the rose. Although Cauldre does not think that we were clear enough in our channeling tonight, we were very specific with our wording so that you do not over analyze. We did not give you a process, we did not give you things to do. We simply said receive this within you and the experience will be yours.

In answer to your question, you will have a unique and individual experience with your Divine Passion. We suggest to you not try to intellectualize it, simply experience it.

QUESTION: Tobias, what is the fruit (of the rose)? And how again do we recognize and partake of it? Thank you.

TOBIAS: The answer to the previous question is also the answer to your question! (audience laughter) We will pause here for a moment and laugh with all of you! (trying to contain laughter) We are delighted that you can laugh.

There is a tendency of the humans... there is a tendency in the old energy to analyze, to intellectualize, to dissect, and to try to figure out. This is a characteristic of the human ego. You will find your divine passion is a – we are struggling for the word here – it is a completely different thing than your human ego.

Divine passion comes from allowing. It comes from being. It comes from knowing. It does not come from the mind, it does not come from one of seven chakras. It comes from your soul, for indeed it is your soul! Each of you will have a personal experience as it comes into your life. Divine passion cannot be forced and it cannot be controlled. It simply is.

Divine passion will appear illusive, but yet with our overview we can tell you that it is right here. It is right here, it is yours by birthright. It is yours by birthright! Do not ask us or yourself what this fruit looks like, what it tastes like, or how many calories it has. (audience laughter) Dear friends, simply receive this when you feel it is time for you. (answering a question someone had on their mind) And yes, know you will go through more physical changes. You will feel that things are rapidly swirling around you. Yet you will find there to be a new type of joy and fun within that you have not felt a long time. Passion is the expression of love.

QUESTION: At times this journey is so difficult and lonely. If we're creating it, why are we creating such difficulties?

TOBIAS: You are transitioning from the human of the old energy, where your foundation was based on the thing that you call your ego. Although you are transitioning to a Divine Human, you are still a human in physical form that still walks each day in duality. But you are now integrating your divinity, your passion and your love.

You could not possibly understand what it is like to be an integrated, divine human with the consciousness you have at this time. Yet, you attempt to define your divinity before it rises from within you. This is what is causing the feelings of despair and loneliness. Dear friends, these are the thorns of the rose that we spoke of during the channeling! Trying to figure out the process of becoming a divine human will cause you frustrations. It will cause you sleepless nights. When you simply receive it, when you simply allow yourself to be in your divine moment, you will see things start to change. We will not go into detail here for we are concerned you will analyze it too much. We ask you simply to experience this on your own.

We assure you and all others connecting to these words that you are indeed in the process of integrating your divinity. You have not missed the boat, so to speak. Sit in the sacred energy of the Inner Room of your New House. Look not outside of you. In your silence you will come to understand the true perfection and joy of your life.

QUESTION: Tobias, please speak to us about our sexuality.

TOBIAS: Hmmm. (audience laughter) This is another area that you will find changes! As many of you have already found, that there is a time of disempassionment in your own sexual drive. This is not caused by age, to answer the one who just thought the question (reading someone's thought). (audience laughter) Indeed as you move from the old energy into the new, as you go from duality into this new earth, you release many things. In the past you may have been passionate about the making of love, which you call sex. Most of you will go through a period of withdrawal, of wanting to be by yourself, of not wanting to interact with another human in this fashion. You have found that you do not so much care about it and at times it is even less than pleasurable.

In the story of Catherine earlier tonight, she cried for this was something too that had gone from her life. She had enjoyed a strong emotional and strong physical relationship in the past. Now these things were gone and she felt there was something wrong with her. She looked at those who she worked with, those who she knew, and she saw them still caring about things like sex. She saw them still caring about things at work. She saw them still involved in family matters and in family dramas. She wondered what was wrong with her that she did not care so much. Catherine was simply moving from the old energy into the new.

As you receive the fruit of the rose, as you bring back the passion that is your birthright, you will find... and we laugh here – we are cracking up here as you would say – (audience laughter) you will find a new type of sexuality within your being that we are not so much allowed to talk about now. (Cauldre is arguing with Tobias about pursuing this subject). That is why we are laughing, for there is great humor in this. It will not be like the old type of making love, the old type of sex that you were used to. This will be something new. (answering a question in someone's thoughts) For the one who just asked the question, yes, you will be able to experience this with somebody who has not moved into the new energy because this will be something that comes from within you. So you do not need to go out and find a partners who are only in the new energy. For as you say, this would be slim pickings! (outbreak of audience laughter) And we appreciate your question!

QUESTION: Tobias, it feels odd to me that I receive all these accolades for being a wonderful lightworker when all I do is my regular job, take care of my family and come to these meetings and read the Kryon books, etc. I feel as if I'm not in service when I look around and see others who are more involved. Help me understand please.

TOBIAS: It is so important for you, for those here and for those reading this energy to know that sometimes, simply BEING is the most important thing that you can do. You have been conditioned that in order to be important or to make a difference, you must have a flurry of activities, you must build things, or change many things.

When we look at you, as we do now, we do not see a human in clothing and with biology. We see a Grand Angel who left home; who went through very challenging experiences on behalf of all; who has been on a long, long journey and who is still serving; who is still giving. Each of you here has been given an opportunity to leave – to leave your human life – to come back to our side, to take a break for a while. And each of you said, "No, I will continue."

You have endured many challenging and difficult circumstances in your lives. You speak of going to a job or taking care of your family – to us who are not in human form, this seems so difficult to us. Being cut off from your conscious connection to Spirit is the ultimate sacrifice. Indeed there are many good things that come from your journey as a human. You are learning of love in the most difficult of situations. You are learning who you truly are.

We do not so much know how to answer this question other than with our tears. We see is somebody who is continuing their journey, continuing to give of themselves each day in service. Again, we honor you deeply.

QUESTION: Tobias, I've been coughing up some blood. I've gone with my feeling that this is part of my process, should I be concerned? Thank you.

TOBIAS: We are calling on others here for a closer look at this energy. (pause) You should have an inner look at this situation. It should not be ignored and yet it is not one that should be feared. You should not become over-concern with it. There is something inside you that is asking to be addressed, asking for you to look at it. The healing potential here is extremely strong. There are healing energies that surround this infected area but it also needs your attention. You should not ignore this. Hmmm, Cauldre does not like when we make medical suggestions! But here we suggest you seek the counsel of a medical doctor. After they do readings with their instruments, then you will know in the ALL exactly how to handle this situation. It is not one to be frightened about but it is one to be addressed.

QUESTION: Tobias, the inmates are awaiting your presence at the prison. They look forward to asking you questions. So far there's been no word about the continuance of the current visitors program at the prison. Is there any information you can provide?

TOBIAS: Do you not trust that Tobias will make this work? (audience laughter) It will work in the appropriate time. There are two shifts of energy within this organization that must take place first. Then we will be there in our glory and we will be there to honor those who sit with us.

QUESTION: Hi Tobias, I'm delivering my question from Israel, so I'm allowing myself to ask two and hope that it is appropriate. First, although we are advised to stay behind the short wall, is there specific guidelines for the people who live in my region of the world in particular.

TOBIAS: This relates to the answer to a previous question. You are there to just BE. You are there as an anchor of the new energy. There is not so much that you have to do, other than to have your presence in this area. Your new energy helps to balance some old energies. It also helps to balance the earth, and it is integrating the elements of the new energy in this ancient region of the world. In specific answer to your question, simply BE. Your light shines in ways that you do not quite understand yet.

Second question from Israel: I'm curious to know how is it for you to address our nags and requests for help. How is it for you to be a teacher?

TOBIAS: We here of the Crimson Council are surprised – pleasantly surprised – that you and Shaumbra haven't given up on your journeys. We know how difficult it is. We do not consider your questions to be nagging, we do not consider your prayers to be an annoyance. We look at all these things as blessings. As I have told this group, I have been in the human condition before. I have had lifetimes on your earth. I have the greatest honor of those of you who continue going forth. I know how very difficult it is.

As I have mentioned to you before, I have died in a prison and that was my last life upon earth. It was very difficult and challenging, yet very beautiful and I learned much from this. I moved ahead several steps in my progress by going through this, but I also did not have the fortitude to continue lifetimes on earth. I chose to stay here in my service – in the service of the Crimson Council and the other councils that exist to interface with the humans – to be here to help you on your paths. There is not a question that is nagging, there is not a complaint that we consider to be an annoyance. We continue to honor you for your work. You will come back here some day and say, "We cannot believe that we continued on that journey" or "Why did you not pull us back sooner" or "We were crazy to continue." We look upon you with great honor and we are always happy to answer your questions.

QUESTION: Tobias, I seem to have the capacity to assimilate these lessons fairly quickly. Hopefully I'm not kidding myself. Can you offer me any information or advice?

TOBIAS: Indeed you do assimilate these quickly. There are a few lessons that you will want to review. You will find that there is more depth than what you originally realized. When it is time to begin your teaching work, you will want to go back to these lessons again. You will realize things that you had not understood before. It is like the rose in your new house. It has been there ever since you entered your new house, but you had overlooked it until today.

When you come back to these lessons, many of the words and stories will have new meanings to you. Cauldre chided us for the way we delivered the channeling tonight, and we told him that it was given in very specific and deliberate order. (chuckling) Perhaps when Cauldre reads these six months or twelve months from now, he will understand what we mean! You are quick to understand these lessons now, and you will know in your ALL when it is time to review some of the lessons again.

QUESTION: Tobias, I've been feeling an increase in energy. Sometimes I feel like I'm burning a hole in me. How do I direct these energies?

TOBIAS: You are going through cycles of change in your biology, as well as in your emotional being. At times these cycles seem very fast and intense. There is no need to direct these energies. However, if you want them to be somewhat smoother and gentler on your system, we suggest physical exercise. Do not attempt to direct these energies through your mind. The surges of energy are natural and appropriate, and your divinity knows how to direct them. Simply understand you are going through the cycles of change.

QUESTION: Tobias, recently I've chosen to activate my Merkabah. It felt appropriate to do so at this time. Are there any pitfalls, problems or opportunities that might come going through this process while going through this process of working with the new spiritual energies of this group?

TOBIAS: Dear one, we do not mean to wag a finger at you here, but listen to our words. You have an intellectual concept of the Merkabah. The Merkabah is real, but is not what you intellectualize it to be. The Merkabah, as you think of it, is an element of the old energy. It will be difficult to try to activate your Merkabah while you are also trying to walk through the process of these lessons and moving into the new energy. It is something you do not truly understand.

The concept of the Merkabah is a holdover of the old energy. We suggest that you release this and allow what you consider to be the Merkabah to take the highest order of energy, instead of defining it in your mind. In other words, we ask you to release this concept to its highest good. Now, we understand we have asked you and others to release many of the old ways that you consider to be New Age. (chuckling) Cauldre gets very nervous about this, for he worries that we are attacking all of the old energy ways. We remind you that we are not. These old energy ways have served you well to this point. You will feel the thorn of the rose when you attempt to hold on to old energy ways. If you grasp the rose and attempt to hold on to old energy ways, the thorns will cause you pain. We ask you to receive the fruit of the rose and do not try to control it.

This group is among the first to walk into the new energy. We are challenging you to release the ways of the old, even though you have only known them for a short period of time. The Merkabah is a concept that has its origins in truth, but it has been greatly distorted. In the new energy, you will not have a thing called a Merkabah that is separate and different from you, and is outside of you. You will have something that comes from within you. You will not have this outer revolving energy field of what you call the Merkabah. Instead you will have something that glows and grows from within. We know we are challenging you and many of the concepts that you have held, but you have agreed to be among the first to walk in this new energy.

QUESTION: Can you speak more about the energy found in this area (Colorado) that drew so many of us here?

TOBIAS: It is YOU that drew yourselves here. It is not so much the energy of the earth, although we understand this is a beautiful place. There was an agreement amongst you and many others to come to this place as a gathering. It provides the appropriate backdrop and it (the mountains) provides a refuge away from the energies of your city. All of you who are Shaumbra have found that you need times to be away, to be alone, to get out of the intense energies that surround your urban areas. In this location you have many opportunities to do that. There are specific types of rocks here that can also absorb old energy patterns and even negative energies. When you go into your mountains and are amongst these rocks, they help to pull these old energy vibrations from you. They help to pull negative vibrations away. Then you go back to the city to do your work, renewed and refreshed

But above all it is family that has drawn you here. You've been drawn together as Shaumbra in other times as well. The most powerful and memorable of these was 2000 years ago in the times of Jeshua. You came together as family. It was not the desert that brought you together, it was family that brought you together.

QUESTION: Tobias, is there information about our inner earth and the meaning of what it actually consists of. Can you explain?

TOBIAS: When you first came to earth, you were not in biology. You came here and planted the "seeds" that would later become your own biology. The "seeding" was not done by some other species. You visited here and you began weaving energies in and around your earth. You placed part of who you are in the very core of earth itself and this became a singular entity that you now call Gaia. From the seed energies that you placed here, life forms, vegetation and biological forms began to take shape. This happened a long time ago, yet not so long ago. Now the earth contains many essences of you and your collective energy. There is a direct correlation between earth, the inner earth and who you are. This is a constant reminder from Gaia about why you came here in the first place. The energy of the inner earth, and the reminder of why you came here can be accessed by you in the ALL .

QUESTION: Tobias, I've had 4 miscarriages and find myself happily pregnant again. You mentioned previously that many of the new children might come in stillborn but that an energy pathway had been created. Is it true in my case with the miscarriages or was there something else going on? Also, at what point in a pregnancy does a soul choose to become a newborn? Have I been selected by a soul, or is my fetus still up for grabs?

TOBIAS: The miscarriages you speak of were a matter of timing. It was not appropriate then for the angel that chooses to come in to be with you. The timing was not appropriate, so there was the situation with the miscarriages.

Your desires to become pregnant and to have a child were very strong. It was not the appropriate time. The child angel that chooses to come in knows now that knows the time of both the earth and your time is appropriate. Your (pausing) -- we are speaking here to this angel child -- this child to be asks you to pay particular attention to your health. You have the tendency to become very stressed. This makes it difficult for the child. We know you are asking if it will be a boy or girl and it is not appropriate to discuss that now. Your stress makes it difficult for this one to come to earth in a gentle way. You will want to spend much time nurturing yourself. The one who is your mate will give you the care that you need, but you must allow it to be. There are times when you push this away.

There is much that we would like to say here, but some of it is not appropriate at this time. There are dynamics that are being set up for a new type of energy attribute for this child to carry in. There are many who are working to make this possible but it is most important for you, for you dear one, to relax, to breath deeply, to not stress. Do not put the expectations on yourself that you are doing right now. Release these expectations.

When does the energy of the angel enter the human body? This varies. It generally happens within a day or so after delivery. There are constant connections and communications between the biological cells and the angel baby that is coming in, but the energy of the incoming angel does not actually come in fully until a day or so after delivery. Now there are cases where the energy comes in slowly and does not fully integrate for up to a year after delivery. There are reasons for this. But generally it is shortly after. There are energetic, vibrational connections between the cells of the fetus and the angel baby before delivery takes place. These intensify as you get closer to delivery. This is why it is so important for you to release expectations. Know you are being surrounded by love. You are being bathed in love. Accept the help from those on your side. This is a very blessed and sacred and special child that comes forth but this child is also one that may teach you rather challenging lessons of your own.

With that, dear friends, we bring our time together to a close. It has been wonderful being in the circle with you today. The ones in the second circle today, who come from your day-to-day life, are amazed at what you are learning. They say you do not talk to them so much of these things! Dear friends as always, we love you! Know that you are never alone.

And so it is ...
